- Royal Canadian Legion

Chair Knott welcomed Kyle Mirva to the committee. Kyle is a local artist and joined the meeting as an observer.

Carol Marleau showed the committee new rendering of the new Wastewater Treatment Plant, and asked what the committee would like to see for the call out for public art on the building. Thoughts that it should be opened to what the artist wants to do, not too descriptive but clear what type of building it is and how many sides the rendering can be on. They would like to see it get out to as many people as possible using social media.
